Joint Time Table.
PLATFOOM OF THE NATIONAL
REPUBLICAN PARTY.
When, in the economy of Providence, this land was to be purged of human slavery, and when the strength of the Government of the people, by the people for the people was to be demonstrated, the Republican party came into being. Its declaration of principles, its platform, and its look back to them with pride, incited by their memories and high aims for the good of our country and mankind. And looking to the future with unflinching courage, hope and purpose, we, the representatives of the party in national convention assembled, make the following declaration of principles: First.—The United States of America is a nation and not a league, and by the combined workings of National and State Governments under their respective Constitutions the Rights of every citizen are secured at home and protected abroad, and the common welfare promoted.
Second.—The Republican party has preserved these governments to the hundredth anniversary of the nation's birth, and they are now embodiments of the great truths spoken at its cradle and endow by the Creator with certain inalienable rights, among which are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness; that for the attainment of these ends governments have been instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed, and until these truths are cheerfully obeyed, or, if needed, to be vigorously enforced, the work of the Republican party is unfinished.
Third.—The permanent pacification of the Southern section of the Union, and the complete protection of its citizens in the free enjoyment of all their rights, are duties to which the Republican party stands sacredly pledged.
The power to provide for the enforcement of the principles embodied in the recent constitutional amendment is vested by these amendments in the Congress of the United States, and it declares it to be the solemn obligation of the Legislature and Executive of every State of the Union to put into immediate and vigorous exercise all the constitutional powers for removing any just cause of disorder in the part of any class and for securing every American citizen complete liberty and exact equality in the exercise of civil, political and public rights. To those who imperatively demand a Congress and a Chief Executive whose courage and fidelity to those duties shall not fail under the results are placed beyond dispute or recall.
Fourth.—In the first Act of Congress signed by President Grant, the National Administration sought to remove any doubts of its duties to discharge all just obligations to public creditors, and solemnly pledged itself to the faithful and prompt discharge of possible period for the redemption of United States notes in coin. (Cheers.) Commercial prosperity, public morals and the national credit were thereby secured, and the national debt was reduced by a continuous and steady progress to specie payments.
Fifth.—Under the Constitution, the President and heads of departments are to make recommendations to Congress, and to advise and consent to the appointment and removal of representatives to be to accuse and prosecute faithful officers. The best interests of the public service demand that these distinctions be maintained, and that no compromise be made with those who are guilty of official misconduct, who may be judges and accusers, should not dictate appointments to office.
The invariable rule for appointments should be to select to the position only men of high character and ability, giving to the party in power those places where the harmony and vigor of the Administration requires its policy to be represented, but permitting all others to hold office on account of their personal efficiency of public service, and the right of all citizens to share in the honor of rendering valuable service to their country.
Sixth.—We reiterate the public confidence of the people concerning political affairs, and withhold public confidence from a man who is guilty of official misconduct, and who is unworthy of the trust reposed in him.
Seventh.—The public school system of the United States is the backbone of the American Republic, and with a view to its security and permanency, we demand that the Constitution of the United States be strictly enforced, and that no person unqualified by education and character be admitted to the office of teacher or principal in any public school.
Eighth.—The revenue necessary for current expenditures and the obligation of the public debt must be paid by a system of duties and impositions, which, so far as possible, should be adjusted to promote the interest of American labor and advance the prosperity of the whole country.
Ninth.—We reaffirm our opposition to further grants of public lands to corporations and monopolies, and demand that the national domain be devoted to free homes for the people.
Tenth.—It is the imperative duty of the Government to modify the existing franchises granted to corporations that the same protection shall be afforded to the naturalized American citizen that is given to the native-born citizen; that all necessary laws be passed to secure to the citizen the full enjoyment of the rights of citizenship.
Eleventh.—It is the immediate duty of Congress to investigate the effect of the immigration and importation of Mongolians upon the moral and material interests of the country.
Twelfth.—The Republican party recognizes, with approval, the substantial advance made in the rights of women, and we demand that the Republican Legislatures in the various States should take prompt action for the amendment of the Constitution of the United States, so that women shall be admitted to the suffrage, and that all citizens shall be equal before the law.
Thirteenth.—The Constitution confers upon Congress sovereign power over the Territories of the United States for their government, and in the exercise of this power it is the right and duty of Congress to prohibit and exterminate in the Territories, that relic of barbarism, polygamy; and we demand each legislation and action of Congress which will secure the rights of women, and the rights of American institutions in all our Territories.
Fourteenth.—The pledges which the nation has given to our soldiers and sailors must be fulfilled. This great people will always hold those who periled their lives for their country's preservation in the kindest remembrance.
Fifteenth.—We sincerely deprecate all sectional feeling and tendencies, and we therefore, with deep solicitude, that the Democratic party, as its chief duty, should be to the well and promoting the good of the country, and we demand that the Democratic party should be to the well and promoting the good of the country, and we demand that the Democratic party should be to the well and promoting the good of the country, and we demand that the Democratic party should be to
